Italian Identities as Told through Cinema: Il cinema racconta gli italiani is an insightful way to study the evolution of Italian culture, history, and society. It introduces students, both foreign and Italian, and general audience to contemporary topics in Italian cinema and investigates these issues through the medium of film.

Films will be introduced by Prof. Vito Zagarrìo, film director and Professor of Cinema at NYU Florence and Roma3. After each film, a special guest speaker associated with each movie, will open a discussion with students.
